As a certified SAP outsourcing partner, SAP AG tests the itelligence data centers annually to check the security and quality of our organization and processes. The centers are ISO/IEC 20000-1-2005 certified.

Our partnerships

itelligence chose to work with SAP, the market leader, from the very beginning. This is why itelligence is a leader in developing, implementing and marketing new technologies in the SAP environment.

As a Global SAP Partner for Service and Hosting, we work in close partnership with SAP worldwide. In January 2003, itelligence was named SAP Global Partner Services – a distinction that only a small number of global IT service providers have received to date.

Since the end of 2010, itelligence – as one of the first SAP partners – has been named Global Value-Added Reseller (Global VAR) based on an extensive selection process with strict quality criteria. Global VARs constitute the most important pillar in SAP's marketing strategy. VARs sell SAP software licenses to the midmarket segment, and expand and optimize SAP branch solutions. We pass on the advantages of this quality-certified status directly to our customers. itelligence is involved in the latest SAP developments in product strategies, release updates and new technologies at an early stage, which we in turn share with our customers at an equally early stage.

Countless Special Expertise Partnerships in the widest variety of branches are as good an endorsement of this as being crowned the winner of the "Pinnacle Award" – the gold medal for customer satisfaction – several times in succession.

The partnership between NTT DATA and itelligence that was established in 2007 yields eminent advantages. Thanks to the perfectly complementary competencies enormous national and international growth potentials can be developed optimally. Especially for our clients from the midmarket. After all, this is the area where completely new growth potentials will arise due to globalization.

Few companies can match our combination of SAP focus, global reach and industry expertise. Only itelligence can fully harness and deliver the practical power of SAP.
